Victoria,
Thank you for your presentation at the Siam Society and a glimpse into the vanishing world of human integrity. I was touched, even shaken with the sense of integrity and timelessness.
Naturally, you are doing work of the very highest quality, work that is so rare. The fact that you are a musician, not an academic, allows you to look at the world without the baggage of years of academic training. Your work deserves to be widely distributed. It is on par with the work done by the best field anthropologists like Jane Goodall.

Peter Peters

One blacksmith alone cannot forge ten irons.
One speaker himself cannot recite ten lines at the same time.
Ten blacksmiths forging one iron.
Ten Pima reciting together at one time.
Working to keep the people culture not to be lost,
Even the Dragon died, the footprint never lost,
Even The king die the Government still take power,
The work you have done, even you pass away your name will be in this earth and value til the planet broken down.

Gaeg lang heeq me, Thank you.

Dear Victoria,
Your show and personal tour was a very special experience - thank you so much! I think that what you are doing is so important and so well done that more should know about it. Not only do you tackle a complex project, but also you do it with commitment, intelligence, and sensitivity. The passion shows in all the details and fine execution.
Susan Stem, Textile Specialist

Dear Victoria,
Peter and I loved your exhibition. Your photographs were exquisite and moving, the artifacts were fascinating, the whole showing of how a people in hard circumstances creates a world of beauty and color. However, we were privileged indeed to be able to hear your talk, and to make one or two steps to understanding a culture which is so different from ours, where communication is so closely bound up with music, whether between themselves or with their gods. Thank you.
Carol and Peter Waters

Dear Victoria,
You have been a real “star” this week at all the events. First there was the curator’s talk for the National Museum Volunteers, then the lecture at Siam Society, followed by the curator’s tour for the Thai Textile Society. And, finally the AmCham cocktail for about 80 people. Thank you for adapting to each to each these events. Your commitment and professional approach truly complements the goals of the Jim Thompson Foundation. Thank you very much for all the hard work and preparation you put into the events this week.

Visitor Comments

Victoria,
I still feel vibrations from the exhibition (at the Jim Thompson Centre, Bangkok, 2009) and meeting you. Restorative. Connecting with humanity outside my diurnal matrix refreshed my soul. When I reflect on the photography, filming, and objets, I continue to be amazed at your stamina, patience, and work.

Jonathan Harger

Victoria,

Pauline and I went to the exhibition at the Three Kings (Chiang Mai Cultural Centre, 2010) last Saturday and were truly amazed. Neither the Metropolitan Museum in New York, nor the Victoria and Albert Museum in London could have achieved what you have done. We spent a full two hours there until we could absorb no more.

We just this morning recommended a friend of ours who is House Mother to about 10 orphan girls in their late teens and early-20s from the Hills, to take them to the exhibition. They should have the advantage of understanding the words of the songs. It should also remind them of the villages from which they come.

We would like to join your Curator's Tour on Friday 19 March if possible, please. Best,

Anthony and Pauline Bottrill

Dear Victoria,

My admiration for your work knows no bounds! Each exhibition is better than the one before and all of them are superb. Thank you for your vision, your dedication, your artistic and musical skills, enhancing the story and history of the people of SE Asia.

Dear Victoria

Your material: if that's just a sampling of what you have, you're assembling an archive of inestimable value. Its genuineness and its authenticity are something I haven't seen before. There's no self-consciousness, it's as if you were invisible to them. And the camera work is brilliant. What an accomplishment.

Victoria –
I am so impressed and envious of your vast storehouse of knowledge and experience which you lived, absorbed and adopted to your persona – Thank you for sharing so much with so many. You are so talented and generous.

Victoria,
What you have achieved is stunning, awesome, wonderful, spectacular – words adequate enough to express my admiration really do fail me. The detail of the photos, the revelations of the faces and the excellent information put your work at the highest level. Congratulations on an excellent project.

Victoria
I very much enjoyed your illuminating tour and explanation of your photographs of the hill tribes (Patterns, Passages, and Prayers exhibit, Chiang Mai, Thailand, 2010). You are a very dedicated archivist and excellent photographer. Your comprehensive work will help future generations visually and spiritually understand the importance of preserving cultural heritage. All the best,

Jim Neale, Photographer

Dear Ms. Vorreiter!
On the occasion of a recent visit to Chiang Mai I saw your exhibition in the Tamarind Village. As a guide for study tours all over Asia I saw many beautiful faces and scenes in various countries, but never photos of such a deep expression of the characters shown. Maybe I cannot express myself very well, but I think you know what I mean. Thank you for the great experience.

Dear Victoria,
We all are so much pleased to learn a lot (from the Splendors of Myanmar’s Traditional Arts Exhibition, Mandalay, 2016). These were the first experience for us. Thank you very much for your fabulous exhibition that was really successful more than we expected and we all cannot stop to retelling about you and your exhibition all the time. We all would like to have a chance to organize like this collaborative works in the future.

It’s a very amazing and interesting show for us to have a golden chance to see and to study the customs and traditional handicrafts of our neighbors. We hope the tie between the two nations will be stronger and stronger because of exchange program.

Deep thanks to bring to us a true world, slowly fading away. There are in it the roots of our common heritage. Its ancestral beauty and early rhythms, talking to our health. . . It takes courage and determination to do it along your years of work, never giving up and deepening tirelessly your knowledge, skills, and sharing it with us. We are so grateful you did it.

Book Reviews

Hmong Songs of Memory is much more than just a study of music. It is a tour de force.

Asian Art Newspaper

As one of the most important initiatives to counteract the spread of cultural amnesia, Victoria Vorreiter’s Hmong Songs of Memory multi-media project deserves the highest recognition and support locally and globally. For the research community, her work points the way forward to a holistic methodological practice built on interdisciplinary partnership. This work is no doubt one of the most significant archives in recent musicological writings.

Dr. Kjell Skyllstad, Professor Emeritus, Journal for Urban Culture Research

Encountering either of Vorreiter’s books, Hmong Songs of Memory or her 2009 work, Songs of Memory, one cannot help but open the book and become engrossed in her artistic design as well as its amazing array of eye-catching color photos. Vorreiter, however, is not just a gifted artist who made her own photographs, audio recordings, video recordings, and book designs, but also a skilled ethnologist with extensive musical training and a penchant for detail. The result is an unusual balance of solid ethnography presented artistically.
